Tea with Nigel Harris and Chris Austin

At the Yeovil Railway Centre - BA22 9 UU adjacent to Yeovil Junction station.

Hear about our crusade for better rail services between Salisbury, Yeovil and Exeter - and discuss our rail network with two of the industry's best-known characters:

Nigel Harris is the Editor of Rail magazine with over 20 years of rail knowledge, and Chris Austin author of "Disconnected", Avocet Line member, with great knowledge of our line.

They will give talks leading to discussions about our service and the rail network generally, supported by other rail speakers including Chris Loder from SWT to enlighten us about the Waterloo improvements.

The evening will trigger a healthy debate. The Salisbury to Exeter Rail User Group (SERUG) are organizing the event to stimulate links with users, local businesses, public sector authorities, Network Rail, Railfuture, CRP's, and Train Operating Companies.... the new franchise award is due in April and we may know the winner in time for the meeting.
